

EARLHAM COLLEGE ATHLETICS UPDATE

Coming This Week:

- Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference: The Quakers begin their first season in the HCAC this week. The first official events are on Saturday as the women's tennis team faces Hanover College and Transylvania University at home.
- Cross Country: The Quakers start the season at the Franklin College Invitational on Saturday. The meet begins at 10 a.m.
- Field Hockey: Earlham opens the fall with a pair of non-conference matches on Comstock Field. The Quakers meet Trine University today at 5 p.m. On Saturday, the Quakers face Transylvania University at 1 p.m. Earlham's field hockey team is also in a unique position as the Quakers remained in the North Coast Athletic Conference for the sport.
- Football: The Quakers start the season in Darrell Beane Stadium as The University of the South visits Richmond. The non-conference contest gets underway at 1:30 p.m. Streaming video of the game will be broadcast by HomeTown Sports Indiana at <http://hometown81.com/>
- Men's Soccer: Earlham has two matches during the first week of the season with the first contest against Thomas More College today. The affair gets underway on Matlack Field at 6 p.m. The Quakers are on the road for the second match at Case Western Reserve University. That contest begins at 2 p.m.
- Volleyball: Earlham plays Franklin College on Schuckman Court in the Athletics and Wellness Center tonight at 7 p.m. Despite being a HCAC foe, this match is considered non-conference. The official HCAC contest will be at Franklin on Oct. 6. The Quakers are at Spalding University on Saturday as they face OSU-Marian (10 a.m.), Rochester (2 p.m.) and Spalding (4 p.m.)
- Women's Soccer: The Quakers entertain Thomas More College today to begin the season. The match is scheduled to start on Matlack Field at 4 p.m. On Sunday, Earlham finishes its week with a match at Ohio Northern University at 2 p.m.
- Women's Tennis: Earlham faces HCAC foes in the first official contests in the league as the Quakers entertain Hanover College (10 a.m.) and unanimous pre-season favorite Transylvania University (2 p.m.)
